Game-based Cognitive Training for Professionals

Using a combination of in-person facilitation, group activities, and mind/strategy games, Accelium simulates complex business challenges in a focused, iterative process to develop critical skills in analysis, problem solving, flexible thinking, and decision-making. Accelium is a proven methodology – with more than 4,000,000 graduates worldwide – that blends traditional learning and personal coaching with state-of-the-art technology.

Facilitated Workshops

Our immersive group dynamics allow participants to encounter a variety of perspectives and thinking styles.

1-on-1 Coaching

Personal training by certified coaches uses game experience to mirror a trainee's thinking patterns - promoting better awareness and identifying opportunities for personal growth.

Virtual Training

Our concise online workouts are accessible 24/7 on the app and on the web. Participants can learn and exercise on the go, getting instant feedback from Accelium's A.I. and boosting their learning process.

Personal Assessment

Game-based evaluation program that measures participants' skills and strengths as well as learning efficiency. The program evaluates a range of competencies and thinking skills, generating a rich assessment report.

Accelium Talent serves as a decision-support tool at a number of key points throughout your HR management cycle: recruiting & screening potential employees, providing ongoing feedback, identifying & developing internal talent, and employee retention.
